Chapter 1 - What Is Home Detox?

By now, you have most likely heard about body detox as it is very much in vogue, especially with celebrities. You might have wondered about the idea of colon cleansing and how it works. When you first hear about body detox, you may conjure up images in your mind that are unpleasant. Once you get to understand about body detox and how it works, however, you will have a different opinion.

Body detox concentrates on cleaning out your digestive system, usually by drinking a solution that is made to clear out your intestines and give the organs in your digestive system a boost. Although it may sound like a surgical procedure, body detox only involves drinking and then going to the bathroom. That is all there is to the procedure. It works to make sure that your digestive system is healthy.

When your digestive system is in good working order, your whole body sings. If your digestive system is not healthy, then your whole body suffers. In order to have a healthy body, you must have a healthy digestive system.

But your digestive system is the catch all for all of the toxins that you take into your body. Even if you are a healthy person who does not smoke, does not drink and eats only organic foods, you are still taking in toxins. They are in the air that you breathe, the water that you drink and....well, just about everywhere. These toxins linger in the body and find their way to the digestive system - a vital system that you need to maintain good health.

The digestive system is comprised of organs such as the liver, pancreas, kidneys and intestines. Foods usually enter the digestive system through the stomach and are then passed for processing through the digestive tract. Some foods and drinks that you take in make the kidneys and pancreas work overtime in processing them. All of the organs in the digestive system have a job to do in order to keep your body running healthy. Once food and drink is processed in the system, it is then eliminated by way of waste. Liquids are eliminated by urine and solid waste is eliminated through the intestines as feces.

In some cases, foods can end up getting stuck in the intestines. There are cases where people have had elements in their intestines for 10 years! In addition, the organs also take a beating when it comes to getting rid of toxins as well as some foods that can be difficult for these organs to process. Simple carbohydrates, for example, are very hard on the kidneys and pancreas as well as the liver as they tend to pass through quickly and make these organs work overtime.

Toxins in the air that you breathe enter the system through the circulatory system that brings blood to and from the organs. When you smoke, for example, the smoke is absorbed into your bloodstream and carried throughout your body. This negatively affects the digestive system. Even second hand smoke will take its toll.

Your skin is your biggest organ and when you take a bath or shower using chemicals as are featured in shampoo and soap, you are absorbing toxins into your skin. When you breathe in air, you take the toxins into your lungs. It is impossible to live your life toxin free, although a good many people try. You are going to eventually go out and pick up germs that are in the air. It is inevitable that you will come into contact with toxins unless you decide to live your life in a plastic bubble.

body detox clears the body of all of the toxins and foods that sit in the digestive system. Not only is it a good way to get the poisons out of your body, but it also works well when it comes to losing weight. Most people find that they can take off quite a few pounds simply by using body detox.

Drinking body detox fluid is similar to taking a barium enema, except you do not have to drink as much and it tastes much better. A barium enema completely clears out your intestines and is usually given to those who are having tests done on their colon or other digestive organs. This eliminates all of the waste from the body and makes you feel lighter. Not only can it get rid of toxins, but it can get rid of any waste that is lingering in your intestines.

Drinking the body detox formula is one of the first steps towards being healthier. You should also take proper precautions when it comes to your health and eat right, exercise and avoid bad habits. body detox should be seen as a way to enhance your health, help you lose weight and keep your digestive system healthy. Good body detox will also fill your body with the nutrients that you may be lacking so that you stay healthy as well.

This book will teach you all about body detox at home and what you need to know about this way of staying fit and healthy. You will learn about the different aspects of body detox, who should body cleanse and even how to make your own body detox treatments right at home. If you are looking for a way to lose weight, stay healthy and keep your digestive system in good working order, you can find it by embarking on body detox.

Chapter 2 - Who Can Use Home Detox?

As stated earlier, just about anyone can make use of body detox. How often you use body detox materials depends on your lifestyle and the intent that you have for the body detox. If you want to lose weight, have a lifestyle that involves bad habits, such as smoking, you may want to use body detox more often. If you are just trying to maintain good digestive health, you can use body detox less often. But regardless of how often you decide to embark on this way to stay healthy, everyone needs body detox once in a while.

For Weight Loss

If you are trying to lose weight, you may want to try body detox. This will get rid of the waste in your body and you will feel much lighter. Many people who are looking for a way to lose weight opt for body detox. body detox is one of the healthiest ways to lose weight.

That being said, body detox is not a laxative. It is a natural way to eliminate waste from your system that leads to weight loss.

To Rid Yourself Of Toxins

A lot of the celebrities are using body detox to rid themselves of toxins in which they imbibe on a regular basis. You can rid your body of toxins by using a body cleanse system. This will work towards keeping your body clean and free from poisons that are in what you consume as well as what you breathe. If you smoke, drink or do not always eat a healthy diet, you can use body detox as a way to stay healthier and rid your body of toxins. While body detox should not be a substitute for practicing good health, it can help alleviate the problems that come with taking in toxins.

Just about everyone comes into contact with toxins. Ridding the body of toxins by using body detox is not only good for the digestive system, but also good for overall health.

Keeping The Digestive System Healthy

Remember, your digestive system and its health is vital to the overall health of your body. Colon cancer, which is cancer of the small intestine, is the number 3 cancer killer in the United States. Colon cancer is the result of polyps in the colon. These polyps often result due to waste remaining in the colon. body detox gets rid of the waste in the body and keeps the colon clean. On top of that, many body detox formulas have herbs, vitamins and minerals in them that can help the body detoxify the digestive system and can feed the organs with nutrients that are needed to keep it cleansed. A great many people use body detox as a way to maintain a healthy digestive system.

With natural body detox supplies, the body is fed a series of nutrients that not only end up helping the digestive system, but the rest of the body. The digestive organs send nutrients back through the body and to the heart, brain and other vital organs. body detox cleans the entire body through the digestive organs.

Passing Drug Testing

Those who get drug tested for jobs often use body detox at home to remove the remnants of illegal substances from the body, such as marijuana. While body detox does not help with a drug blood test, it can help someone pass a urine test for illegal substances or even tobacco. Someone who imbibes on the weekend can end up passing a drug test on Monday by using body detox.

While it is not recommended that you use body detox as a way to use drugs and pass drug tests, it can help you if you happen to make a bad decision and then have to take a drug test. A lapse in sense does not have to cost you your job if you use body detox solutions that are made for passing drug tests.

There are many different body detox products on the market. Most of them are made to maintain good health. Others concentrate on cleansing toxins from the body or as a way to lose weight. Anyone who wants to maintain good health as well as lose weight can benefit from body detox solutions and tablets that are sold on the market.

When you are body detox at home, you can even create your own solutions using natural ingredients to cleanse your body. Later in this book, we will discuss home remedies, how to use them and even give you some recipes on how to make your own at home body detox formula.

While everyone can benefit from using body detox at home, this should never be considered as a substitute for common sense when it comes to health. While body detox can help you lose weight, rid your body of toxins, keep your colon clean and even help you pass a drug test, the best way to stay healthy is to avoid toxins, drugs, and eating the wrong foods. Natural at home body detox will also be discussed in a later chapter.

Chapter 3 - Using Detox To Lose Weight

Losing weight can be difficult, especially if you want to take the pounds off fast. One way that you can use at home body detox is to help you lose those extra pounds. You can provide your body with nutrients and vitamins it needs to function while at the same time, lose weight.

There are several solutions on the market as well as pills that can help you lose weight by body detox. The main ingredient that you need is water. You can use herbal supplements along with vitamins to help you lose weight with body detox. You can also use pre-made solutions that you purchase online or in health food stores as a body detox weight loss remedy.

Drinking plenty of water is one of the safest ways to lose weight. Water not only hydrates your system, but also fills you up and helps you expel excess water. You should drink 8 glasses of water a day whether or not you are trying to lose weight. Water is even more essential when you are trying to lose weight.

Water alone, however, is not sufficient when it comes to losing weight. You need to supply your body with nutrients, especially if you are skipping meals. On top of that, you need to cleanse the digestive tract so that waste is eliminated. You should look for body detox supplements that will provide your body with the essential vitamins it needs while helping you lose weight.

Body detox is the safe way to lose weight fast. Instead of taking weight loss pills that often contain illegal pharmaceutical ingredients, you can take off the weight with a body detox system. You can create your own body detox by mixing water with ingredients such as lemon and pepper that will cleanse out your system. There are also commercial brands of weight loss body detox products that you can purchase.

Using the body detox systems to lose weight is safer than diet drinks that act as laxatives and contain chemicals. When you are looking for a body detox solution to help you lose weight, look for one that has all natural ingredients instead of one that is filled with chemicals as this will not only help you lose weight, but will also be healthier for your body.

Green tea is one of the key components when it comes to weight loss through body detox. Green tea acts like a diuretic and can help you lose weight quicker. You should drink green tea without sugar in order to get the effects. Drink plenty of green tea a day and you will find that you are taking off the pounds. Green tea can also be taken in tablet form if you dislike the taste.

Cranberry also works as a diuretic and can help you lose weight through body detox. Cranberry should be used in tablet form as the juice drinks that you purchase in the grocery store are loaded with sugar. Cranberry will also help clean out your urinary tract.

There are many kits on the market that you can use to create your own home body detox solutions that enable you to lose weight. These include those that are marketed under the name of colon cleansers. Colon cleansing is essential if you want to lose weight fast as it will eliminate any waste that is left in your intestines. This can help you lose weight at a dramatic speed if you use it often.

It is important that you drink plenty of water when you are body detox to lose weight. You never want to diet without supplementing yourself with water. By drinking 8 glasses of water a day and using a good, natural body detoxifier, you will take off weight quicker than dieting alone.

Of course, it goes without saying that you should exercise good common sense when you are trying to lose weight with body detox. body detox is not a magic formula that lets you just lose weight while eating what you want. You still need to increase your activity as well as reduce the amount of calories that you are consuming. body detox will, however, be an asset to your weight loss and will enable you to take in nutrients while cleansing your body of waste, helping you to lose weight.

Chapter 4 - Using Detox To Detoxify The Body

One of the primary reasons that people use home body detox is to detoxify their bodies. There are several products on the market that are made for body detox. These include products that range from those that can help you pass a drug test to those that can renew your body with organic herbs that rid your body of toxins that you may unwittingly take in.

Detoxification by body detox is usually done with a solution that you drink, although there are teas as well as tablets that you can take as well. Kits for home body detox often consist of tablets and teas as well as solutions that can be mixed in with water. It is often cheaper to buy these kits than to buy products that are already mixed together.

You should plan to use a body detoxifier to detoxify your body once a week if you have a lifestyle like most normal people that entails taking in toxins. You can mix up the remedy right at home and drink it. Most of the body detox kits that are sold online have pleasant taste to them and they will go to work right away to move through your system and ridding your body from toxins.

In addition to drinking the solution or taking the tablets, you will have to drink plenty of water. There are often instructions on how much water you should drink after you take the solution. Water will help the body detox product flush through your system and detoxify you.

body detox not only rids your body of impurities that are found in the air, foods and drinks but it also can rid your body of ailments. If you are trying to get over a cold, have stress or physical ailments, you will be surprised at how the body detox works to detoxify your system and make you feel better.

Choosing a home kit is the best option when you are seeking to body cleanse for health. This is not only the less expensive alternate, but it also allows you to use the kit whenever you feel the need to purify your body. The ingredients in the body detox kit should be all herbal ingredients that will work their way through your system and help you detoxify.

Drug Detox

If you are worried about passing a drug test, you can choose a body detox system that will cleanse any impurities from your body. This will work only if you are taking a urine drug test. There are several body detox agents that are on the market that will not only provide your body with nutrients, but will also color the urine so that it is not clear. The way that drug detox drinks work is that you drink them down and then follow them with several glasses of water. You have to do this a few hours before taking the drug test, although there are some that will work in less than an hour. After you drink several glasses of water in rapid succession, you will be able to take the test. Instead of your urine turning clear, as it would if you drink a lot of water at one time, it will have a yellowish tinge to it. The herbal remedies that are used in the drug detox body detox are not detectible by most drug tests.

No matter why you decide to detoxify yourself, you should be certain to use a body detox system that is all natural and does not contain any chemicals. Whether you use a tea, a tablet or a solution that is pre-made, you will feel good after you have cleansed your body in this way.

Chapter 5 - Colon Cleansing

A great many people who use body detox are interested in colon cleansing. These home body detox remedies can be used for eliminating constipation as well as making the colon healthy. Colon cleansing will eliminate any waste that you have in your body and clean it out.

Like the other body detox remedies, you can get colon cleansing in drink, tea or tablet form. There are also many kits that are used on the market for colon cleansing. Again, it is important to chase the solution or tablet with water so that it can make its way through your system.

There are various colon cleansing recipes and products that you can find on the internet. The ideal time to use colon cleansing is when you have time to relax and take the solution as well as have access to the bathroom. After colon cleansing works on you, you will feel lighter and more energetic. A great many people use colon cleansing as a way to lose weight as well. Most of the colon cleansing solutions are interchangeable with the weight loss solutions for body detox. They not only flush out the colon, but they also provide the body with treatment to keep the colon healthy.

There are many disease of the colon that can range from being inconvenient to being life threatening. One way to keep your colon healthy as well as maintain your weight is to use a colon cleanse body detox solution.

You can use a colon cleanse that you purchase at a health food store or online, or make your own. As is the case with all body detox, the key ingredient is water. In addition to water, you will want to add some natural products to help cleanse the colon and flush out the system. For colon cleansing, you should concentrate on using antioxidants that will not only help with colon cleansing, but will also help with health. One remedy that works well is pure grape juice mixed with water. This should not include the store bought grape juice, however, as it is filled with sugar. Resveratrol is also a supplement that can help with colon health as well as health of the entire digestive system. This is derived from the skin of red grapes. You can mix Resveratrol powder with water to make a colon cleanse that is healthy for colon health.

No matter what type of diet you consume, colon cleansing is a good way to keep the digestive system in good health. Whether you make your own solution or purchase a solution, you should use a colon cleanse once a week for good digestive health.

Chapter 6 - Tips For Home Detox

Although there are many products on the market for home body detox, you can also work towards cleansing your body at home without any products. One of the best ways to start body detox is to drink purified water. You should consume 6-8 glasses of water per day in order to maintain good health. Many people do not drink enough water and end up paying for it with weight gain and storing toxins in their body. Water is the natural way to flush toxins out of your body.

You can tell if you are drinking enough water by the color of your urine. If you are getting enough water, the urine should be nearly clear. If your urine is dark, it means that you are not drinking enough water. While it is more concentrated in the morning when you first go to the bathroom, it should get clearer throughout the day. Many people do not like drinking a lot of water throughout the day because they do not have time to use the bathroom frequently, however, it is one of the ways you can purify your body naturally. By keeping yourself hydrated, you will start to notice that you are better able to maintain your weight or even lose weight.

Another factor in natural body detox has to do with the foods that you eat. When you are trying to body cleanse, you should eat foods that are high in vitamins and minerals and low in fat. Eating at least seven fruits and vegetables a day will help you detoxify your system. Some of the foods that you will want to add to your diet include fish, blueberries, cranberries and leafy greens. These all work towards making you healthier by providing your body with nutrients that you need to maintain good health. You have most likely heard the old adage that you are what you eat. This is not just a saying, but a true fact. Start by cutting out fats, fast foods, sodium, processed foods and sweets from your diet that add toxins.

There is a large variety of organic products that you can choose as well. Organic foods are developed without toxins such as artificial hormones and chemicals. Eating organic foods is one way to keep your body clear of impurities.

Exercise is also essential for body detox. You should perform cardiovascular exercises that will work up a sweat as well as relaxing exercises, such as yoga, to eliminate stress. Many people today complain of stress over work, home or money. Stress can play havoc on your body and natural body detox should try to eliminate stress as much as possible. Exercise is a natural way to not only get in shape and burn calories, but also to sweat out toxins.

Supplements can also help you cleanse your body. You should take a good multivitamin in order to naturally cleanse your body. This will help you get the vitamins and minerals that you may be missing in your daily diet.

It stands to reason that you should practice good health habits and avoid behavior that leads to toxins entering your body. Do not smoke, take drugs or drink alcohol. These are habits that are detrimental to your health and should be avoided.

Once you get into the habit of naturally cleansing your body, you will find that it not only gets easier, but that you start to feel healthier and look better. Your entire body will respond to natural body detox. It is not difficult to use body detox at home once you understand how. When you start to see and feel the results, it even gets easier.

Chapter 7 - Choosing Detox Products

When you are looking for body detox products, you have quite a choice. You can go online to look for products or purchase them from health food stores or suppliers. One thing that you will want to be certain of is that the body detox products are made from natural products.

You can choose the following when you are home body detox:

- Pre-made formulas
- Tablets
- Powders for mixing with water
- Teas
- Patches
- Aromatherapy
- Foot therapy

You can purchase any of the above products right online. Determining which is the best for you will depend on your own preferences. Many people choose more than one product for home body detox. All work differently but achieve the same results. Here is a rundown of each of the products and how they can work to cleanse your body:

Pre-made formulas

Of all of the body detox products, pre-made formulas are the most costly. This is because all of the work has been done and the formula is ready to use as is. Those who are looking for convenience are better off to use pre-made formulas for body detox.

You can purchase these formulas in many different outlets. These include high end salons, health food stores and online outlets. Using the pre-made formulas is easy enough to do. Simply follow the instructions on the label and you will accomplish the cleansing at home. You can find body detox solutions in a variety of different flavors. Most of them are loaded with vitamins and juices, such as Acai berry, a noted and powerful antioxidant. Pre-made formulas are ideal for anyone who does not have the time or the inclination to make their own formula. They can be used with other methods of body detox to get a true body cleanse.

Tablets

There are hundreds of different tablets that are made for body detox. The tablets work less quickly than the solutions, although they are very effective. Many people take the tablets on a daily basis to keep their body cleansed.

Most of the tablets that are used for body detox are made from derivatives of herbs as well as vitamins. Some fruits, like the Acai Berry, often used in body detox, are only available in juice or powder form in most areas of the world. Tablets usually contain components like Acai, the antioxidant, as well as cranberry, lemon and other ingredients that are known to flush out the system effectively. Those who want a product that will work over a period of time will enjoy using the body detox tablets that are on the market. You can purchase these tablets at health food stores, online outlets and even the local drugstore. Make sure that the body detox tablets that you purchase are all natural and contain all natural ingredients. You can even find that there are some organic tablets that are sold by distributors.

Powders For Mixing

If you like the fast action of the body detox solutions but do not want to pay the price, you can create your own body detox solution with powders that you purchase at a variety of different places, including online. You simply have to mix the powder with purified water and you are all set to drink. You will find the powders in a variety of different flavors and can even get them in a variety pack so that you can sample several different flavors to see which ones you like.

You use powders for mixing in the same manner as you would use a pre-made solution. Follow the directions on the label as different products have different directions. The pre-made powders are ideal for anyone who wants to save money but likes the idea of using a body detox formula that they can drink.

Teas

Drinking green tea is very good for body detox but drinking green tea that is fortified with more antioxidants and vitamins is even better for your body. You can make the tea as you would a normal cup of brewed tea and take it either hot or cold. Again, you will want to follow the directions on the package when you are using teas as a way to cleanse your body.

Teas are ideal for those who like to drink tea and are looking for a soothing way to naturally cleanse their body at home. They work quickly but not as quickly as the solutions. Like the tablets, the teas are often used for a long term cleansing basis.

Patches

Just like you can get a nicotine patch to help you quit smoking, you can also use a patch to cleanse your body. A patch for body detox is used the same way. You put the patch on your skin and the properties are absorbed into your bloodstream through your skin. This is a slower way to cleanse your body, but may be more convenient for those who are busy and do not have time to spend with a solution.

You can purchase the body detox patches at a number of different outlets. All of the same outlets that sell body detox supplies usually sell patches. If you are the type of person who does not have a lot of time to spend on body detox and does not want to drink teas or solutions, the patch is ideal for you. You just have to put it on and you are all set.

Aromatherapy

One way that you can naturally cleanse your body is through aromatherapy. Aromatherapy can be used in two different ways. You can put essential oils on the skin and also breathe them in. Some essential oils such as those derived from lemon and tea tree leaves work well to cleanse the body.

You should not put essential oil directly on your skin as it can be very potent. You should mix essential oils with a carrier oil such as canola oil, and then massage into the skin. The skin absorbs the essential oils in the same manner as the patch and it goes into the bloodstream.

You can also use aromatherapy to inhale the essential oils into the lungs so that they are also transported into the bloodstream in this manner. You need to use an infuser to inhale the oils.

Aromatherapy is good for body detox on a long term basis. It does not work quickly, but is effective. It is similar to the patches in that it is absorbed into the bloodstream and works to cleanse all parts of the body, including the digestive system. They work well for those who want to have a long term body detox experience at home.

Foot Therapy

You feet are the pathway to your body and foot therapy can work well to cleanse your body from impurities. Foot therapy usually consists of massage or magnetic therapy. Both can work well for body detox and work on the long term basis. You can use home made remedies when you practice foot therapy at home.

Foot therapy is often used in conjunction with other body detox methods as a way to not only cleanse the body but also to keep it clean and healthy.

Chapter 8 - Home Detox Recipes

You can easily make your own home made remedies that are ideal for home body detox. This chapter will explore the different remedies that you can use and where you can get the ingredients for these body detox solutions.

For all of these home made remedies, use only purified water. You can purchase purified water in the grocery store or get it right out of your tap if you have a water purifying system in your home. If you do not have a water purifying system, you should consider getting one for your home. This can help you keep your body free from some of the impurities you get from water.

Drinking solutions is one of the best ways to detoxify the body. But not the only way. There are many who do not want to take the solutions for a variety of different reasons, or who also want additional body detox.

Using massage oils made from essential oils is one way that you can work to detoxify your body on a long term scale. Essential oils should never be used directly on the skin, with the exception of Rose and Lavender, as they can cause a reaction. As discussed earlier, aromatherapy works to detoxify your body in a slower way and will work continually over a period of time.

You can find essential oils for these recipes online or in some health food stores. It is very important that you use pure essential oils or extracts for these recipes as synthetics will not give you the same results. These recipes are all safe to use topically as massage oils. You can also use the alternate recipes, given after the massage oil recipe, to inhale the oils to allow for detox to go through the lungs.

These are all safe and tested recipes for aromatherapy style detox:

Aromatherapy Body Detoxification One - Lavender and Rose

This is one of the easiest of all of the aromatherapy detox recipes. It combines two of the safest essential oils that will not only relax you, but cleanse your body of its impurities.

• ½ Cup Lavender Oil

• ¼ Cup Rose Oil

Mix well together and then massage onto your feet, neck and chest area. The essential oils will be absorbed into your skin and then into your blood stream. This is a good recipe for those who are tense and want to relax, while detoxifying their body at the same time.

You can also put the oils directly into an infuser and breath in the scent. This will allow it to be absorbed into the lungs.

Another alternate to this recipe is to put the oils in your bath and soak in them. You will start to feel relaxed right away as you will not only be breathing in the oils, but allowing them to soak into your bloodstream through your skin.

Remember, lavender and rose are the only essential oils that are safe to put directly on the skin. The rest of the recipes will involve the use of a carrier oil for direct skin contact.

Aromatherapy Body Detoxification Two - Frankincense

Frankincense has been used as a healing potent for thousands of years. You can use this as a way to get rid of body toxins as well as help your circulatory system:

• 1 Cup Carrier Oil (such as canola oil)

• 1 Teaspoon of pure Frankincense

Mix the oils together well. You should put them in a dark bottle with a cork lid for the best results. Once they are mixed together, you can then use them as a massage oil. Rub the soles of your feet with this mixture as well as the chest area. This will do wonders for your circulatory system and the scent is pleasant. If you have a partner, see if they will massage your back.

You can get canola oil at any grocery store. Frankincense is a common essential oil that can be used as a body detoxifier and is found at most health food stores. Remember to only use pure Frankincense for this recipe.

You can also put the oil in an infuser and breathe in. Because the scent of this essential oil is so pleasant, many people choose to not only use it as a massage oil, but also as a relaxing scent.

Aromatherapy Body Detoxification Three - Tea Tree Oil & Lemon

Both Tree Tea Oil and Lemon Oil are useful when it come to helping the digestive system. If you want to lose weight as well as clear out your digestive system so that it works well, you can make this mix at home and use it as a massage oil or in an infuser:

- 1 Cup Carrier Oil (such as canola oil)
- ½ Teaspoon of Tea Tree Oil
- ½ Teaspoon of Pure lemon oil (not lemon juice)

Mix the oils together in a brown bottle and shake. Use them in the same manner as you use the other aromatherapy massage oils. You can also inhale them in the infuser.

Be sure to get pure lemon oil and not lemon juice. Pure lemon extract will work as a substitute for this type of detox if you cannot find pure lemon oil. Tea Tree oil is available at most health food stores - just be sure that it is pure and not made from synthetics.

Aromatherapy Body Detoxification Four - Almond

This is one of the aromatherapy treatments that you can use from extracts that are readily available in the grocery store. You should still use a carrier oil when you are using extracts.

• 1 Cup Carrier oil (such as canola oil)

• 1 Teaspoon of pure Almond Extract

• 1 Teaspoon of pure Vanilla Extract

Combine all of the products and shake well in the bottle. You can then apply on the skin. The scent is very nice and you can also burn the oils on their own in the infuser. This is a body detox that will work to bolster the immune system and clear out any toxins. Best of all, you can easily find the extracts when you are in the store.

Using massage therapy and breathing in the essential oils is one way that you can detoxify your body at home. In addition to using these techniques, however you should still practice good habits such as not smoking, limiting your alcohol intake and drinking plenty of water.

Chapter 9 - How To Stay Healthy

Home body detox is not difficult and there are many choices from which to choose when it comes to what type of remedy you want to use. You may want to start slow when it comes to trying to detoxify your body and drink the detox teas.

If you go online, you will see a myriad of many detox kits, teas, pills, drinks and just about anything else. While these work to help you detoxify your body, it is very important that you understand that they are not a magic cure. In other words, you cannot expect to party all of the time, abuse your body and then cure it by using detox.

Home detox can, however, rid your body of toxins and get you clean. If you have been abusing tobacco, alcohol or drugs, you can clean up your act at home and use the body detox formulas mentioned here to get your body clean.

Before using a body detox system, you should use a colon cleanser. This will help you clear out your colon and will allow it to be more receptive to the vitamins and nutrients that you are providing your body. A healthy digestive tract is the start of a healthy body.

To stay detoxified, use an at home body detox system once every week and eat a healthy diet loaded with vitamins and minerals. Drink plenty of water a day and exercise. Take a multi vitamin and a supplement of vitamin C.

You can get your body into shape by using home detox methods that are mentioned in this book as well as those that you purchase in the store. You just have to be persistent with the methods. If you fall back and revert to an unhealthy habit, look at it as a setback but not the end of the world. Detoxify and then start over again to try to maintain good health for your entire body by ridding yourself of toxins.
