- Business model 1 - Creating And Selling Digital Products
- Business model 2 - Affiliate Marketing
- Business model 3 - Membership Sites
- Business model 4 - Coaching
- Business model 5 - Services

Business Model 1 - Creating And Selling Digital Products

Creating and selling your own digital products is an amazing way to make money online! The ability to take your own knowledge, skills, and expertise and charge money for it is an amazing feeling and one of the best business models in the online world.

To top it off selling your own products is a high profit business model. It is very cheap to start a business like this and you can make great money doing it.

The common types of digital products include:

- Short video courses
- Audio courses
- Online interactive courses
- In-depth home study courses
- Books and ebooks
- And more

Pros of this business model:

- Low start-up costs
- High profit business model
- Minimal time and labor time spent after product is created

Cons of this business model

- Requires skill, expertise, or knowledge on your topic
- Lots of skills needed to sell digital products
- Takes a bit of time to start

Overall this is one of the top online business models.

Business Model 2 - Affiliate Marketing

Affiliate marketing is a business model in which you promote other people's products and earn an affiliate commission for promoting it. For example: You could promote someone else's course on "how to get six pack abs." and earn a commission on every sale you refer to the product vendor.

This is a great business model for beginners that are just getting started as you don't need a bunch of knowledge and skills. As an affiliate you simply refer traffic to the vendor and let the vendor handle the rest of the work.

Pros of this business model:

- Can be ran in just a few hours a day
- Quick and easy to start
- Low startup costs

Cons of this business model:

- Sending your buyers and traffic to another product vendor
- Only receive partial commissions on sales made
- No control over sales materials and product content

Overall this is a great business model for anyone getting start with an online business. As you get more experienced as an affiliate marketer you can transition into one of the other business models in this report.

Business Model 3 - Membership Sites

Membership sites are a great online business model because they bring in monthly recurring income. Most membership sites have a monthly fee which means a steady stream of monthly income!

For example: if you have 100 people paying you $47 a month you have a $4,700 per month online income. With a membership site you can quickly build a substantial online income!

Running an online membership business is similar to creating and selling your own products but instead of a one-time fee you charge monthly. In addition you also release new content monthly to entice members to continue being part of your membership.

Pros of this business model:

- Recurring Income
- High profit business model
- Low time investment

Cons of this business model:

- Harder to sell
- Complex setup
- Ongoing work needed

Business Model 4 - Coaching

Coaching is an amazing online business model. With a little bit of skill or expertise you can start a successful coaching business.

The key to running a successful coaching business is helping people solve a problem in a group or 1 to 1 coaching environment. Coaching can be similar to a digital product as you are walking someone through a particular process and helping them get results. However, with coaching you are working with them closely and walking them through each step.

One of the major benefits of running a coaching business is that coaching programs demand a premium price as they are very effective. It's often easier to get your customers and clients results when working with them directly.

The major downside to the coaching business model is the time invested. Coaching clients can require a lot of time which makes it not as scalable as some of the other business models.

Pros of this business model:

- Demands a premium price
- Very effective for getting your clients and customers results
- Very rewarding

Cons of this business model:

- Very time consuming
- Harder to scale
- Requires patience and effective communication skills as you will be working directly with clients.

Business Model 5 - Services

Last but not least you have the services online business model. A Service is in when you handle tasks or provide labor for others. Here are some service based online business types:

- Content writing
- Search engine Optimization
- Technical and administrative services
- Pay Per Click Advertising
- And many more!

A service based online business model can be very effective as you can charge a premium price for services. However, services are often a lot of work and very time consuming.

Pros of this business model:

- Demands a premium price
- Premium positioning in your marketplace
- Can lead to long-term clients and referrals

Cons of this business model:

- Often requires special skills or technical abilities
- Harder to scale
